Finger Lakes First

Organic Alley and local leaders are teaming up to start a local chapter of the Business Alliance for Local Living Economies or BALLE (www.livingeconomies.org). Founded by Judith Wicks, BALLE is an international alliance of many independently operated local business networks with thousands of members dedicated to building Local Living Economies. University of Rochester Professors James Allen & Judith Hook are leading the local push and organized a conference on sustainability called "Pathways to a sustainable world". The conference has held back in April by the University of Rochester. The speakers included Michael Shuman, author of The SmallMart Revolution, Judith Wicks, founder of the White Dog Cafe, and David Orr, one of the foremost experts on sustainability. If you are interested in getting additional information about our local efforts, please visit www.FingerLakesFirst.org or stop into Organic Alley to speak with Doug Miller.

OA's Featured Product

Acai Juice

What is Acai? It is a dark purple berry of the Acai Palm Trees, Euterpe Oleracea, found in the lush rainforests that are fed by the mighty Amazon River. These amazing berries contains up to 33 times the antioxidant content as red wine grapes. They have traditionally been used to increase energy, stamina, vitality, and to promote overall healthy living. In addition, Acai also improves mental clarity, combats premature aging and helps to bolster the immune system. Organic Alley™ carries several varieties and sizes of Acai juice, including capsules, frozen pints & bottled juices. You can even get Acai juice in your smoothie, nectar or soma at our Organic Cafe.

Green As Can Be

Since Organic Alley™ opened it's doors on December 6th, 2005, we have been green in everything we do. From our biodegradable cups, utensils, containers, to our reusing & recycling policies, we strive to make a positive impact in our environment. In fact, we are so green that we have more green policies and initiatives in our cafe and market

Healthy You

Digestive Tips: To improve digestion so your body has more energy to perform other necessary functions such as burn fat and flush toxins from your body, here are a few tips:

- Eat only when you are hungry. Don't eat because it is a certain time of the day.
- Take a digestive enzyme before your meal unless you are eating raw (uncooked) fruits and vegetables. Remember to take digestive enzymes especially when you are traveling.
- Juice, Juice, Juice! Juicing is the best thing you can do for your body. Consuming fresh, raw, organic juice increases metabolism, flushes toxins out of your body and reduces weight.
- Avoid eating late. Best time to stop is at least 2 hrs before bedtime.

Healthy Planet

Our philosophy at Organic Alley™ is to re-use, reduce and then recycle - in that order. If we learn to use what we already have, this will make a much bigger impact on our environment than recycling. Keep a few clean travel mugs in your automobile and bring them in when you get that coffee, tea or cocoa. Organic Alley™ will give you a discount for bringing your own mug or cup in!

Green Tips

- 1) If each American ate two fewer meat dishes each week for a year, the grain that otherwise would have been fed to feedlot animals would be enough to feed 225 million more people for a whole year.
- 2) You can use white vinegar as a cleaner, to help with the laundry, and even to get bugs off plants.
- 3) Start making educated and responsible decisions by getting informed at www.OrganicAlley.com and these sites:

- www.Bioneers.org,
- www.EarthIsland.org
- www.Eco-Portal.com

The Studio @ OA Summer Schedule

Organic Alley has expanded it's offerings this summer. To complement our current Yoga offerings, we are pleased to welcome the following instructors and their healing arts:
